Customer Problem Statement Template:

Create a problem statement to understand your customer's point of view. The Customer Problem Statement template helps you focus on what matters to create experiences people will love.

A well-articulated customer problem statement allows you and your team to find the ideal solution for the challenges your customers face. Throughout the process, you'll also be able to empathize with your customers, which helps you better understand how they perceive your product or service.

Customer Problem Statement Template

I am	I'm trying to	But	Because	Which makes me feel
A busy 2nd-year engineering student with a packed academic schedule (Rahul) A university cafeteria manager overseeing campus dining and meal plans. A 1st-year college student adjusting to intense university exam pressure (Priya)	Maintain energy levels, improve classroom concentration, and maximize my GPA Manage exam anxiety, sustain steady physical energy, and build a healthy lifestyle (healthy feeling) Optimize dining menus, introduce balanced options, and boost overall student health.	I skip breakfast, frequently engage in eating out, and rely on fast food. I consistently default to high-calorie comfort food items (chips, chocolate, ice cream). The student body exhibits alarmingly low daily fruit and vegetable intake (fruit day and veggies day).	I lack a structured meal routine and clear data showing how skipping early meals impacts my mental clarity. comfort food reasons coded shows that stress (Code 1) and boredom (Code 2) are my primary triggers. I lack clean, aggregated dashboard metrics highlighting actual student consumption gaps to justify changing inventory.	Sluggish, easily distracted during lectures, and anxious about my dropping productivity. Guilty, physically exhausted, and trapped in an unhealthy, stress-driven eating cycle. Disconnected from student wellness needs and restricted in my ability to roll out effective health interventions.

Problem Statement (PS)	I am (Customer)	I'm trying to	But	Because	Which makes me feel
PS-1	A busy second-year university student navigating a highly demanding academic schedule.	Maintain consistent concentration levels during lectures, maximize my energy, and achieve a high GPA .	I routinely skip breakfast , rely on eating out , and frequently consume fast food.	I lack a structured meal routine and clear, visual data connecting my immediate nutritional choices to my long-term cognitive focus.	Sluggish, mentally unfocused during classes, and anxious about my dropping academic productivity.

PS-2	A first-year college student adapting to the intense emotional and mental pressure of university exams.	Manage academic stress effectively, sustain steady physical energy, and build a baseline of health (healthy_feeling).	I consistently default to high-calorie comfort_food items (like chips, chocolate, and ice cream).	comfort_food_reasons_coded shows that stress (Code 1) and boredom (Code 2) are my main psychological triggers, and I lack a way to track these patterns visually.	Guilty, physically fatigued, and trapped in an exhausting, stress-driven eating cycle.
